

John Tillery, PGA, and Lynn Blake Certified / Instructor, is Head Professional at Milledgeville Country Club in Milledgeville, Georgia.

A 2005 graduate of Georgia College and State University, John was the golf team's Stroke Average Leader his senior year. He also notched three tournament victories and was named All Conference and All American. After two years on the mini tours, he began teaching and in 2008 launched his career as a PGA professional.

"I've always had a passion for teaching", says John, "and after working with everybody that was anybody on my own game without seeing results, I decided my destiny was to find the truth and bring it to others."

John now teaches amateurs and professionals at all levels, including college, mini tour, and PGA TOUR. His work with Blake Adams has qualified him for the 2011 PGA TOUR Instructor Credential.

John lives in Madison, Georgia, with his wife, Jennifer, and their son Eli.